5 Mistakes Your Financial Advisor is Making By Samuel N. Asare

(Laser Financial Group, free community resource)

This little primer is loaded with sound advice in a very easy to read format. I consider myself fairly savvy when it comes to matters of investment (not that I'm a Rockefeller or anything approximating it), but I have never heard the term "tax efficiency." It's a great concept, and one you should certainly investigate. Asare's take on Roth IRAs is a definite eye opener that is worth taking the time to read in and of itself. I have long shared his belief that perhaps paying off your mortgage is not sound advice. See what you think after reading 5 Mistakes. In my humble opinion, you would do well to sit down with this man before you even begin investing for your future; however, it's never too late to learn. Samuel Asare is the thinking person's answer to Suze Orman.

Free downloads of the book are available on Laser Financial Group's website: www.laserfg.com. Laser also welcomes requests from organizations interested in making hard copies available to their communities as a free educational resource.
